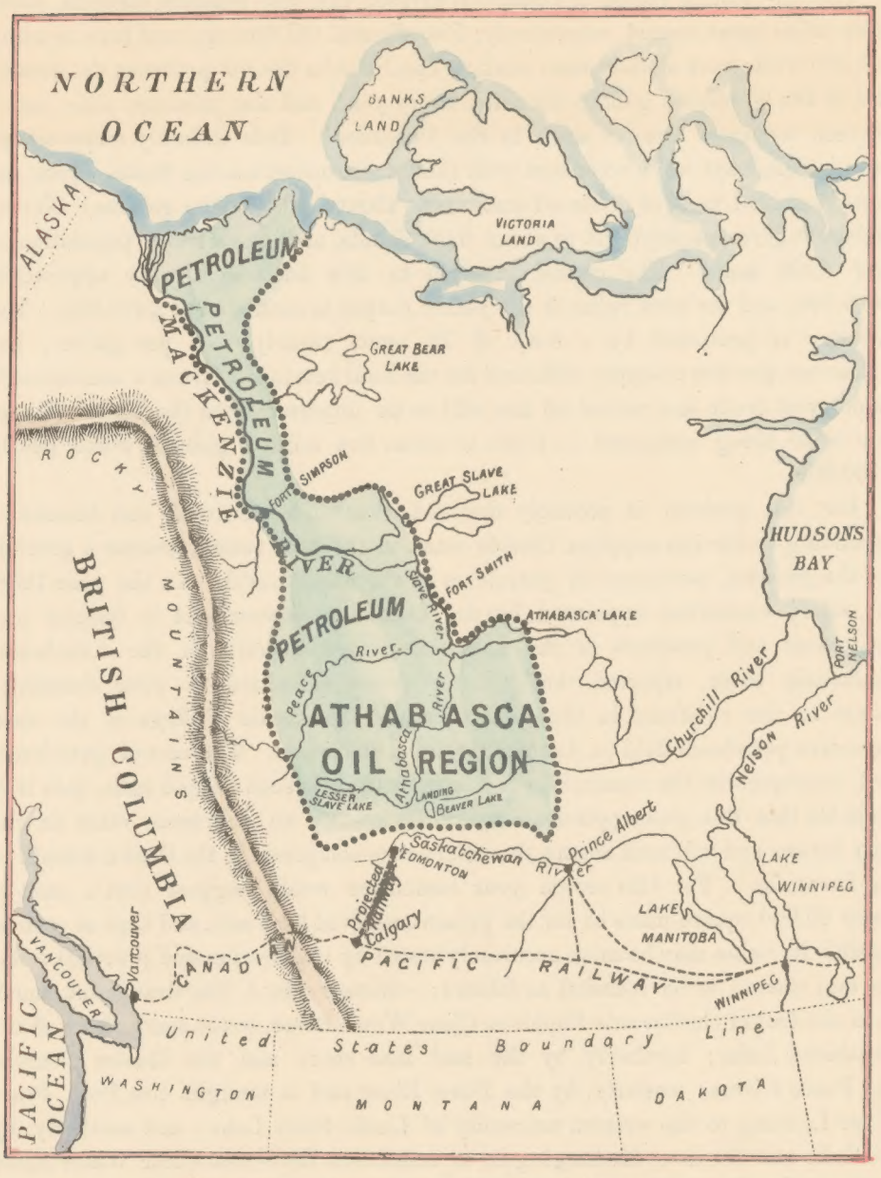
must be remembered that this area of 40,000 square miles, here recommended to be reserved, by no means represents the whole of the oil-bearing region, which ... witness estimated at no less than 100,000 square miles.

Fig. 176.—Map of the Great Canadian Petroleum Region.



The dotted line shows the estimated boundary of the Oil Region.

c.1891

It may be stated, in a general way, that "if the reader find Calgary, a well-known station on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and strike about a couple of alberta G-104 (c. 1891) [Arch.]